

Susannah Yaunt-Torreano

Illustration / Graphic Design

Within our family circles, into our communities and throughout the world the artists in all of us are creating a tapestry of feelings and events that will, one day, tell the story of our civilization. For this reason, I feel the need to hold onto the grassroots of art-something that allows us to tell it like it is, whether it makes sense or not.

Since the age of six I have been doing, just that. I feel a sense of duty to pass on what I have learned, what I am learning, and have, yet to learn from all of you. I hope to continue the tradition of art as a story telling tool as I am in complete awe of the artistic world and the capacity we all have to harness it in our own way.
